MONDAY MORNING, NOV. 1, 1858. PRIVOLOGI AMESEMENTS VS. MENTAL CULTURE A RE PREPARED to effer to the THAT ARE NOT, BUT SHOULD BE .-- I presume I -THINGS THAT ARE BUT SHOULD NOT BE .- THINGS shall be very far from standing alone, when I say that I have been frequently led to reflect on the liberal patronage bestowed on the continual influx of exhibitions which crowd into our city, and the DRY GOODS! arge amount of ready cash which they take out of it. Cui bono ! I must not, however, be understood to object to lectures on Science or Art, nor to performances which combine instruction with amusement, and whose tendency is to ennoble, rather than to debase the mind. That this last is the effect of a large portion of the sights and sounds for which the public are, almost daily, impor- the principle we maintain will endure. tuned to expend their money, must be obvious to of our early contemporaries have rested from every candid observer. It would be difficult, per-their earthly labors; others have grown weary haps impossible, to form a correct estimate of the sum thus expended yearly in our city; it is, doubtless, a large one, and is it not a fair inference that, > be devoted to a far better purpose. These reflections have been more especially called up by a consideration of the little support given to the Cleveland Library Association, an institution which, looking at the advantages it is dea'gued to afford, and the influence, for good, it is calculated to exert upon society, can hardly be too highly estimated. For our fair city to be without a public library and reading room would be sufficiently disgraceful, but that such an institution should exist in our midst, and be so ill supported, is a great reproach. Can it be that Clevelanders are ignorant of the privileges to be enjoyed in exchange for a subscription of $2 per annum—less than four cents a week? Surely if known they would be better appreciated! Let us see then what is offered in exchange for this trivial contay.

> A library comprising more than four thousand volumes, containing many of the choicest works of European and English literature, continual increase to which is only limited by the resources of the association which it is obvious must mainly depend on the amount raised by annual subscriptions.
> The Reading Room is supplied with some forty american newspapers, the London Times and functions and Reviews, home and foreign, monthly and quarterly, there is a goodly number. There is too a courteous and gentlemany Librarian, W. J. Tair, always ready to answer questions, and respond to the wishes of members. The meed of approbation has been well carned by Mr. Tair for his untiring efforts on behalf or the Association.
> In addition to his accustomed duties, which are sufficiently arduous, his energies were severely laxed by bringing "order out of confusion" in resulting my Annual Message, it grati-like the better and proposal to the subscription of $22 per annual—lost down by a decline of interest. Our faith and mbelief, our hopes and fears, have alternated, and but for confidence in a kind, merciful, over-uniting Providence, we would doubtless long since have abandoned our gre t and glorious work. Christianity hes been struggling for eighteen have abandoned our gre t and glorious work. Christianity hes been struggling for eighteen have abandoned our great the only its obsent of the sum of righteousness is the only light to scatter the darkness of life's pathway and dissipate the gloom of the grave. Our Order has been the gloom of the grave. Our Order has been the gloom of the grave. The only in essalt to thousands, and if it is abandoned, whither shall the tempted fire, where shall the should exist in our midst, and be so ill supported, is tiring efforts on behalf of the Association.

In addition to his accustomed duties, which are sufficiently arduous, his energies were severely taxed by bringing "order out of contission" in restoring the library to its wonted state after the fire which took place in the building in August last. A large a umber of books required to be re-bound, newly covered and marked, and the whole classified and placed in their press in situations. The superintendence of this work, and no small portion of the actual labor, devolving on himself. That the confidence reposed in him by the Board of Directors has not been misplaced, a visit to the rooms will soon determine.

There remains yet to be noticed one advantage which is afforded by the Association to its mem-which is afforded by the Association to its mem-hers, namely, the provision of a course of lectures, on literary and scientific subjects, by men of dis-tinguished talents and eminence in their profession. First and forement for the coming season stands Lieutenant Maury, the world renowned explorer of Lieutenant Maury, the world renowned explorer of the depths of the ocesn, and the encessful theorist of the phenomena of the "wild tornado." This will be the opening lecture, and will take place towards the end of November. The names of the other inlended speakers are before the public, and will, doubtless, commend themselves to the appro-bation of all who design availing themselves of "reson." which this course of lectures is calculated to afford.

Grand Division of Sons of Temperance. The Grand Division of the Sons of Temperout the State were well represented, and much interest was manifested in the success of the Order and the Temperance cause. Gen. S. F. Carry, G. W. P. of Ohio, made the following REPORT.

Worthy Representatives :- By the rapid flight of time, we are brought to the Fourteenth Annual Session of this Grand Division. A very few of us participated in the deliberations of this body at its first meeting. In this ever-changing world we can only hope that truth will asade forever. We will all pass away, but the principle we maintain will endure. Some in well doing, and returned to the service of their cruel master, or abandoned the enterprise as hopeless. The mutability of human organi-zations may be learned by the history of those who have been honored with the highest office but for the temptation held out by itinerant singers, danseurs and artistes of various grades, much in your gift. Three have departed this life, all of the money spent on these pests of society would of whom died members of the Order, and strong in the faith of its ultimate triumph; one viola-ted the pledge, and has continued to live in to-tal disregard of his obligations as an honored. Son of Temperance; two have suffered them-selves to drop out of the Order; while six are still more or less active in the work.

This institution, in the fourteen years of its existence in Ohio, has passed through every variety of trial incident to all human organizations having for their object the elevation of society. Our Division rooms have been erowded—again they have been almost deserted, and again a new wave of prosperity succeeded, fol-lowed by a decline of interest. Our faith and

In submitting my Annual Message, it grati-fies me to be able to report that the Order in this jurisdiction is in better condition than it was at the beginning of my administration. This im-provement cannot be attributed to personal ef-forts on my part. I have been so environed by other duties and cares, that I have been able to give very little personal attention to the work of building up Divisions. Under other circum-stances than such as have surrounded me the past year, I would have been more "abundant in labors." Calls for my services in different and distant portions of this juri-diction, have been repeatedly and persistently made, and it has been painful to me to decline many of these invitations. My highest earthly ambition is to spend and be spent in the holy cause we are united to extend, establish and perpetuate. The report of the G. S. will show that our Order is in a hopeful, if not flattering condition. This competent, laborious and faithful officer, in a very important period of his official year, was summoned to the bed-side of a dying nother in a distant State, and his prolonged absence resulted in some delays and inconveniences in communications. The Brothers well knew that Many of my Deputies have done their work faithfully. Among those who have labored with unusual zeal to do their whole duty, and who deserve especial mention and commendation, are Brothers John R. Williams and Morris Squires, of Medina county, John Brown, of Noble county, T. D. Royse, of Clermont county, J. S. Templia, of Highland county, and Samuel J. Thomas, of Cincinnati.

We cannot recall the past-whether our work be well or ill done—we cannot, if we would, unseal and alter the record. What shall be performed in the future that remains to us, is now the all-important question. All our interests, as members of families and neighborhoodsas citizens of the State and nation, demand that our membership be multiplied a hundred fold in this jurisdiction. Wisslow in the selection of means, well directed efforts, faithfulness and perseverance, with the continued blessing of Heaven, cannot fail to secure this blessed

A brief enumeration of some of the things to te done, will not be out of place

First—Every member should be true to his pledge—attend every meeting of his Division—pay promptly his dues—labor taithfully to induce his friends to join—take a temperance paper-live, speak, act and vote as becomes "a true Son of Temperance."

Second—Divisions should get up and sustain public meetings, procure lecturers, circulate the necessity, and acknowledge the value of the Order. We must do more to vitalize the Or-In class 5th (Horseback Riding,) several gentle-men and Masters displayed much skill in equestri-be recognized as the City of Retage for all who no quarter, but sacrificed every age, sex and condition—and we can show at no quarter. It us resolve, with a will and a purpose, that our membership shall be doubled the ensuing year and its power, activity and efficiency increased in hundred fold. Having an unwavering faith in the intrinsic ses, and all appeared pleased with the attempts to excellence and superiority of our organization, improve the value and quality of this noble animal.
